

Administration Manual

General Configuration

Processors

Processors are started by triggers and run actions. You can select one or more triggers from a list of predefined triggers to react to events. When the processor is triggered, actions are taken. You can carry out one or more of these from a list of actions to execute.

Badges

Medals